Resolution Fellowships

The Resolution Social Venture Challenge is a pathway to action for undergraduate social entrepreneurs. The Challenge allows attendees at host conferences to build teams and submit plans for ventures that will make a positive impact today.

Resolution will provide Fellowships to select socially-responsible young leaders. Resolution Fellowships include a full ecosystem of support for aspiring young social entrepreneurs:

- Seed funding – a grant to kick start the social venture
- Strong advisory support – each Fellow team is assigned a pair of Guides, providing dynamic, hands-on mentorship ranging from social venture advice to personal and professional development
- Access to resources – a diverse array of trainings, materials, and professional services are available to help Fellows navigate the challenges of social entrepreneurship
- Community – access to Resolution’s network of advisors, socially-responsible supporters, and an action-oriented peer group

Resolution Fellows are working on all 6 inhabited continents in diverse, high-impact fields such as water, food, sustainable development, education, energy and the environment, health and wellness, equality and empowerment, and humanitarian aid.

Who are our Fellows?

Rima-Maria Rahal, Zlatko Tadic, and Shubei Wang, who are working to improve oral hygiene in the Ukraine and Ecuador with peer educational videos and delivery of dental supplies.

Fellows Zlatko & Rima-Maria modeling the oral hygiene products they distribute to underprivileged youth.

Vanessa Picker and Leah Costanzo, who are working to provide access to sporting equipment and coaching for indigenous youth in Australia – creating opportunities for them to build confidence, have fun, and be active.

Nick Fiore and Alex Merkovic-Orenstein, who created a sustainable Internet café in rural Rwanda to provide free IT training on technological applications to the community.

Lidan Zhang and Shangsi Zhou who are working on Care for the Disabled Children from ABC, a social venture in China encouraging interactions between elementary students with and without disabilities.

Fellows Lidan & Shangsi with their team and elementary students they are facilitating interactions between.

How does it work?

Global Partnerships: We form close partnerships with youth conferences that serve broad communities of university students.

Resolution Social Venture Challenges: We invite you, the young leaders attending these host conferences, to propose impactful, socially-responsible projects (“Ventures”) in a multi-stage competition known as the Resolution Social Venture Challenge (“SVC”):

- Venture proposal: Teams will sign-up and complete a multi-step proposal outlining the Venture implementation and sustainability. Resolution will review eligible submission and invite semifinalists (often everyone who complete a proposal) to participate in-person at the conference.
- SVC Forum: At the conference, semifinalists will showcase their proposals. They will explain their Venture to conference attendees and judges in an informal, science fair-like setting.
- SVC Finals: Forum judges will select teams to invite to present their Venture to a panel of judges. Presentations will be followed by question and answer sessions.

What is a social venture?

A social venture is innovative and addresses a real social problem. It can be either for-profit or not-for-profit, but must generate measurable social benefits.

Who can compete in an SVC?

Any undergraduate student attending a host conference in-person can submit a venture proposal to compete in an SVC. Venture ideas cannot have received prior funding.

What is The Resolution Project?

The Resolution Project is a global 501(c)3 non-profit fostering leadership development through collaborative social entrepreneurship.

Our Vision: a generation of leaders with a lifelong commitment to social responsibility.

Our Mission: to develop socially-responsible young leaders and empower them to make an impact today.

Our Resolution: a unique pathway to action for aspiring young social entrepreneurs, growing a global community of socially-responsible leaders.
